Erinç*

Throughout history, people have always dreamed of protection, power, luck, fertility, loyalty, love, birth and eternity. This is self-reflective thought, the subject of philosophy, which has been going on for ten thousand years from primitive tribes to the present day. When the subject of thought is ideas, the development of individuals and societies will be clarified in philosophical terms. The historical accumulation and memory of human beings affect us. Cultures and civilizations have risen through the textures, patterns, images and symbols of rugs, cloths, clothes and jewelry of all times. The weavings, jewelry and objects that have survived to the present day are full of symbols of culture, creativity and design, they are vast oases for design. The visions conceived in the mind, longed to be realized, are the cognitive existences of the weaver. Historically, designs have been the work of weaver travelers. They are our designs, our interpretations, all representations of visible, invisible existences through symbols. We mark emotions, concepts, make agreed descriptions, prepare the way for different meanings. What we design are not patterns, figures, forms, they can be the expression of a stance, a wish, a meeting, a departure; they move form, light, relationships, they prepare visual feasts, they gain belonging according to stance, time, person. Designs are abstractions in the name of thought, each concept of the thinker is up to itself, the thinker is like a bee making honey, it exists to reach its user at the end. The weaver is a being of history, he is preoccupied with social belongings, he does not belong to himself. For weavers, symbols stimulate the power of comprehension and imagery, giving them the possibility to recreate historical geographies. In the works you will see here, you will follow the reflections, what you do not see in what you see will be hidden, hidden, hidden, inviting you to think, the symbols embedded in the images are in social and historical compromises, even if they remain hidden. We will be transporting those who pass through time to beyond time. You will switch to multilingual, multifaceted thoughts. *Erinç (TR) evolved from Old Turkic "kivanç, mutluluk"; it means liveliness, comfort, vigor, peace. (EN) Peace of mind, repose, tranquility, rest, comfort (DE) Seelenfrieden, ruhe, entspannung, beschaulichkeit, komfort (FR) Repos, tranquillité, confort.

HALİL İBRAHİM, BEREKET SOFRASI

Halil and Ibrahim are two brothers who make a living every year by dividing their crops between them, their barns overflow with their generosity, and the magic of abundance, which increases as they share, continues at the tables with conversations.

Our tables are for our celebrations, to hope, to commiserate, to rejoice, to reconcile, to commemorate. At the table, the sound rises, the colors increase, there is abundance, the word is full of enthusiasm, joy, closeness. Our tables are consolation, precious, sacred, rare, celebrations, Beauty is multiplied by sharing, troubles are reduced by sharing, fights and blood feuds end at the table, peace is made at the table.

It is an orientation towards happiness, a love of life, exuberance, pleasure, generosity, sharing, multiplication, feasting, shared enthusiasm, madness, togetherness. Glasses clink and plates break.

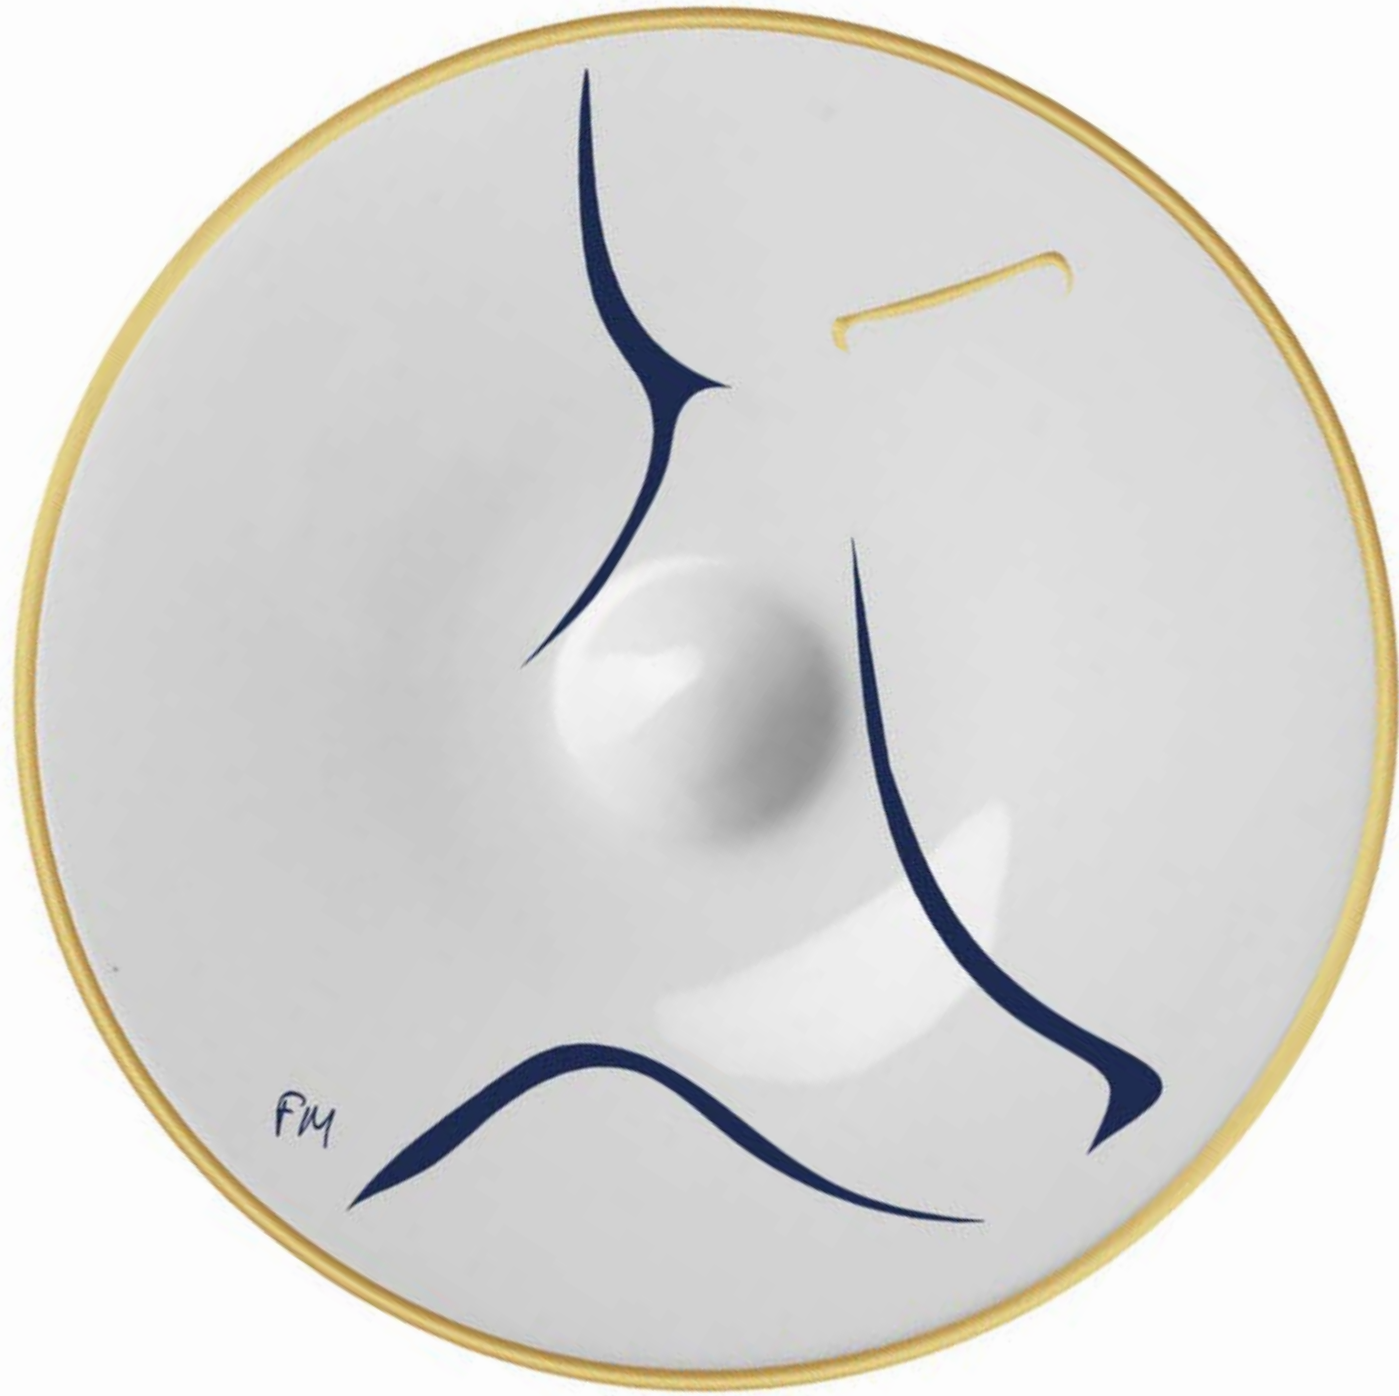

The atmosphere of the celebration is full of grace, kindness, courtesy, favor, grace, virtue, inspirations, decorations.

Experiencing such concepts, such moments, extending them over time, the object-based representation becomes instrumental to your subjective existence, to your style.

We wish the blessings of Halil Ibrahim to overflow from your home.

"I can never let you down
I'd like to make you some chamomile tea.
Then orange tea
Smoked lapsang souchong tea
But I can never let you down
I just go crazy
They'll put me in the Lape
I drink strong Turkish tea
there only"

A Cup of Coffee, Murathan Mungan

Coffee can be black,
sweet, salty
I don't know whether to say three or five,
time turns to seven times
as fate would have it,
the mule ages,
fills the cup.
